How does battery storage work in South Africa?

Battery storage systems offer a solution by storing surplus energy generated during peak production periods and releasing it when demand is high, ensuring a consistent and reliable power supply. The South African government has acknowledged the potential of battery storage and has set ambitious targets for its deployment.

Which countries supply lithium batteries to South Africa?

China, having established battery storage manufacturing facilities, has been the primary supplier of lithium cells and batteries to South Africa between 2019 and 2022. South Africa's transition from coal-dominated electricity generation to renewable energy sources such as wind and solar presents an opportunity to increase battery pack imports.

Can South Africa produce a battery?

The Netherlands is the primary destination for South Africa's ferro-alloys and ferro-vanadium exports, while South Korea is a growing market for these products. South Africa lacks the manufacturing capabilities for the production of battery storage. It remains to be proven whether such an activity would be competitive domestically, says Nikomarov.

Does South Africa have a battery supply chain?

Europe, the US and Korea each hold 10% or less of the supply chain for some battery metals and cells, according to a report by the International Energy Agency (IEA). South Africa's role in this landscape is primarily as an exporter of raw materials. Only about 10% of the country's vanadium is used domestically, the rest is exported, says Nikomarov.

How can South Africa tackle battery storage challenges?

To overcome these challenges and unlock the potential within the battery storage sector, South Africa needs a multi-pronged approach that must include: investment in refining and processing infrastructure; focusing on existing strengths; fostering collaboration; developing attractive investment incentives; and embracing innovation.

Does South Africa need a strong value proposition for battery storage?

Competition: The global battery storage industry is already dominated by established players, particularly in Asian countries. South Africa needs to develop a strong value proposition to attract investments and compete effectively.
